

Visit UPM's veterinary medicine faculty

UNIVERSITI Putra Malaysia's Faculty of Veterinary Medicine is holding its open day at its campus today.

The theme is "Animals and vets: up close and personal".

This programme aims to enhance awareness about the veterinary profession, in particular, the role of vets today.

Among the many activities planned are surgical demonstrations, information about veterinary education and research, lab facilities and functions, veterinary hospital consultations and exhibits of domestic and exotic animals.

Guests can also get to know the Faculty by participating in tours of surgical theatres, diagnostic laboratories, animal wards and the anatomy museum. The public can also watch surgeries carried out on animals.

Members of the public can ask for physical check-ups on the pets, especially cats and dogs.

For more information check out the website:

www.vet.upm.edu.my

4 JULY 2004 THE STAR