

Intensive English language course scholarships for UPM students

ELS LANGUAGE Centres Malaysia (ELS Malaysia) will be awarding 150 Certified Intensive English Programme (CIEP) scholarships worth RM622,500 to undergraduate students from Universiti Putra Malaysia (UPM).

"ELS admires the upholding of the standard of English in UPM and therefore has embarked on this scholarship initiative to help accelerate the improvement of the English proficiency among the University's Malaysian students," said ELS Malaysia principal Chee Yin Looi.

The CIEP focuses on key skills such as listening, speaking, reading, writing, vocabulary and grammar; all of which are incorporated into practical application-based activity exercises.

This in turn, will allow and give students the chance to practice English in various scenarios.

The scholarships were made available to undergraduate Malaysian UPM students who scored Band 1 and 2 in the Malaysian University English Test (MUET).

Selected candidates will be awarded to study at the CIEP for two sessions starting from July 1 to Aug 30.

ELS Malaysia and UPM's mission is to facilitate and assist students to improve their English proficiency in both speaking and writing, and through this programme, they hope to inculcate young Malaysian undergraduates with the importance of good English language competency, especially for the working world.

Chee: 'ELS admires the upholding of the standard of English in UPM.'