

Rolling out mats for meal at dusk

Putrajaya offers perfect spot for those looking to break fast outside their homes

MANY are taking the chance to buka puasa on the lawn in front of Putrajaya Corporation building in Precinct 3.

The immaculately cut grass offers a comfortable place for breaking fast with friends and family, while enjoying the sunset.

Some were seen relaxing on the grass with dishes bought from the nearby Ramadan bazaar, while children ran around the area.

There were also a few food trucks parked by the roadside where visitors could buy their food.

Not only Putrajaya residents were breaking their fast there. Those from nearby areas had also booked their spots as early as 6pm.

Universiti Putra Malaysia food services management student Muhammad Faiz Othaman, 25, said the lawn was a nice place for breaking of fast.

"It is a nice break to have buka puasa out in the open, as opposed to being at home or in a restaurant," he said.

He and his friends took the opportunity to have a gathering as it was their final year as students.

He added that since the Ramadan bazaar had shifted to the parking lot next to the Palace of Justice, the lawn was a strategic spot for buka puasa.

"We can head straight to the mosque after breaking fast," he said.

Putrajaya Corporation has also provided mobile toilets and surau for the public.

Muhammad Faiz (far left) and his friends taking the opportunity to break fast picnic-style in front of the Putrajaya Corporation's building in Precinct 3.