

ELT meet in Jakarta

INDONESIA and Malaysia are working together for the common good of English language teaching.

I-MELT or the Indonesia-Malaysia English Language Teaching Conference will be held from March 16 to 18 at the State Islamic University, Jakarta.

Universiti Putra Malaysia and the State Islamic University Jakarta are joint organisers of this first ELT collaboration between Indonesian and Malaysian universities.

The conference with the theme "Breaking Borders, Enriching ELT Experiences" has been inspired by developments in English Language teaching in Malaysia.

It is directed towards keeping students engaged and taking ownership of their own learning.

I-MELT 2017 will focus on language and performing arts. It will have guests, among them, storytellers, actors and musicians.

Jan Blake, one of the world's best known storytellers and who has had rave reviews while performing in Malaysia, and Carolyn Graham, the Harvard University professor who invented jazz chants, will both be at the conference.

For more information, send a text message to 017 3355170, e-mail: imelt2017@gmail.com or visit <http://imelt.event.uinjkt.ac.id>.