

SEVEN scientists and researchers from Universiti Putra Malaysia (UPM) were among the 27 newly appointed Fellows of the Academy of Sciences Malaysia (ASM).

UPM in a statement, said it and Universiti Malaya, have seven fellows each, topping the list of universities in Malaysia.

The newly appointed fellows based on fields are Biological, Agricultural and

Seven new fellows from UPM

Environmental Sciences - Prof Dr Abdul Rahman Omar (Faculty of Veterinary Medicine), Prof Dr Raja Noor Zaliha Raja Abd Rahman and Prof Dr Tan Wen Siang (Faculty of Biotechnology and Biomolecule Sciences).

It also includes Prof Dr Tan Chin Ping (Faculty of Science and Food Technology).

The others are Chemical Sciences - Prof Dr Khozirah Shaari (Faculty of Science); Mathematics, Physics and Earth Sciences and Prof Dr Zainal Abidin Talib (Faculty of Science) and Social Sciences and Humanities.

Prof Datuk Paduka Dr Tengku Aizan Tengku Abdul Hamid (Faculty of Human Ecology) is also included.

The ASM fellowships consist of scientists, engineers, technologists and social scientists who have made distinguished contributions in their respective fields.