

Nanocellulose Derived from Oil Palm Biomass

A group of researchers from Universiti Putra Malaysia (UPM) succeeded in deriving nanocellulose from oil palm biomass whose properties are equivalent to the nanocellulose produced by other developed countries that use different bioresources. Read More

Thohira Synbiotics Accelerate Growth Rate of Fishes and Prawns

Researchers from Universiti Putra Malaysia (UPM) have successfully developed Thohira Synbiotics, a product developed from a combination of probiotics and prebiotics that accelerates the growth of fishes and prawns and at the same time protects them from diseases. Read More

Innovations in Board Games Increases Students' Interest in Hematology

The Blood Genius board game is based on the traditional snake and ladder board game, but with several modifications. Read More

Students and Lecturers from the Faculty of Science Clean Morib Beach

The programme aimed at fostering teamwork spirit in conducting activities and cultivating the spirit of unity among students of various races, ethnicities and religions. Read More

Programme of Integrating Engineering and Nature held in Mandarin Tahfiz Academy

ATM was chosen for this first-time programme because it is an institution with a new concept in the world of education by combining Tahfiz Al-Quran studies and Mandarin in one syllabus. Read More

Horse Therapy Volunteer Workshop with RDA Malaysia

The programme is part of a long-term collaboration between the Putra Equestrian Club and the RDA, and it serves as a basic training for the volunteers prior to the Horse Therapy Program scheduled to start on October 27. Read More

Street Dakwah Approaches the Homeless

Several special slots were conducted with the community including 'Street Dakwah' which exposed participants to the methods of sharing current and social issues with the community using an amicable approach. Read More

Shomy, a Student from UPM, Receives the Legacy Awards in Memory of Princess Diana

Shomy received the honourable award for her effort in raising awareness of the importance of clean water and hygiene by setting up an 'Awareness 360' organisation with a fellow UPM student Rijve Arefin, also from

Bangladesh. Read More

PUTRA® LACD Unites the Uniqueness of Language and Global Culture

The uniqueness of the global languages was presented through cultural performances, movie screenings, exhibitions, as well as local and international cuisines cooking demonstrations. Read More

AGRICULTURE · INNOVATION · LIFE

BERILMU BERBAKTI
WITH KNOWLEDGE WE SERVE

Universiti Putra Malaysia

Corporate Strategy and Communications Office, Serdang
Malaysia

Feedback regarding e-PUTRA® Newsletter kindly contact: hairul_nizam@upm.edu.my

Unsubscribe